

Feels Like The Dirt – EMERALD

Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh.

Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh.

Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh.

Sitt'n here with all of the shades pulled down. It's almost like I'm living underground.

Think to myself, I gotta check some time. To be sure the world goes round.

Doc give me pills to stop drink'n. But i don't think that's what they're for.

He should'a give me some to stop think'n. Maybe might'a worked a little more.

Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh.

So I'll saddle right up, and get back on. This horse that hasn't gotten any name.

Now I got most of the day gone. I'm the only one they gonna blame.

Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh.

So I'll think myself, way beyond reason. Hoping for a better season.

Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh.

Doc give me pills to stop drink'n. I don't think that's gonna work.

He should'a give me some to stop think'n. While I spend my last days here on the earth.

Got this old thing in the corner. What was left from when I lost my last shirt.

Turned it around, got me some sound. I hardly ever knew that it worked.

And I'm living on the wrong side of happy. But I'm gonna give it all that it's worth.

Stayed up all night, just to be here. Now you tell me if it sounds like the dirt.

Listen.....

And I never knew the earth had spun eastward. Cause I don't study stars at night.

Think'n right now I could be one. If it's only just for one time.

Yeahhhhhh.....

And I never knew the earth had spun eastward. Cause I don't study stars at night.

Think'n right now I could be one. If it's only just for one time.

I said Doc, take the pills. I don't need'em. Cause everything'll be alright.

I'm not the one, that can use'em. Must'a made an error this time.

I ain't living on the wrong side of happy. When I got a brand new shirt.

Gonna give it all that I got now.

And keep pik'n, when it feels like the dirt.
