

How You Gonna Know – EMERALD

When too much of something, just ain't no good to me.
Born under a bad sign. It always comes at you in three's.
When there's a big lot of nothing. You most likely just got deceived.
So carry on like you had none. When everything gets up and leaves.

How ya ever gonna beat that one. How ya ever gonna know.

Everything's been coming up roses lately, a little strange it seems.
Been through some good, and bad times, you're no different than me.
When things are too good, and you know that it's this time.
Just sitting here waiting to see.

How ya ever gonna beat that one. Sometimes ya gotta know.
How ya ever gonna get that done. Sometimes ya gotta go.

If I settle for you baby, and you settle for me.
We got the world baby, everything that we need.
Too good to be true maybe, that's how it seems.

How you ever gonna beat that one. How ya ever gonna see.
How ya ever gonna get that done. How ya gonna live,,,without me.

When too much of something, just ain't no good to me.
I know you'll just wake me, cause it's just a dream.

How you ever gonna beat that one. How ya ever gonna see.
How ya ever gonna make it through. How am I,,,ever gonna live, without you.
