

Keep One Eye On Your Six – EMERALD

They always sit silent. Don't want you to know. Told to sit quiet, til commanded to go.
Gotta keep a watch over these days. You know how it is.
It could be over water, it could be on the land. Or at a local market, in the magazine stand.
Where ever you may be, keep a watch on your six.
It seems like something distant, entire world away. Landed right here, on the front step today.
But they're not all the blame, so they're watching their six.
Let's take all the might that nations can yield. Towards the dark ones, that show no way to feel.
You're better off with them, rather than not.
It could be over water, it could be on the land, now we're not silent, cause that's all we can stand.
And all I know if I were you, I'd keep one eye on your six.....Fuckers.....Lite Em Up.

Time ticks past, midnight tonight. Perfect condition, for iron bird flight.
And they're on their way all loaded and locked.
Baby's got a gun, but it's not a real one. And we're gonna strike with no warning tonight.
So if I were you, I'd keep one eye on your six.
They got birds in the sky, flying three miles high. I don't wish I was you, with no place to hide.
Cause there ain't no mistaking this time, they're all over your six.

Well, they're coming for you, they'll run you thru and thru, you can't duck this time, cameras don't lie.
And there's nowhere left here on the earth, that you'll ever survive.
With all your recruits, with your stories and your lies. It's all a false truth. The end of the line.
And it's all gonna die with you, here tonight. I hope you're ready.....Yeah.

Ohhhhhhhhh...Ohhh.

Because the mighty has might, and the dark side has tricks.
You better turn now, and keep one eye on your six.
Yeah we'll walk right over that six, any time, every time.
Cause you'll fuck up with this, and you'll fuck up with that.
And we'll fuck you straight up, right where you're at. And you'll fall away, you won't ever come back.

Well you better think twice, if you're gonna do this, cause we don't play nice, and we're not gonna miss.
Things will get tough for you, so keep one eye on your six.
And for the ones who sat silent, but now are invoked.
There's no place to hide, cause the mighty ones know.
And if I were you, I'd keep one eye on your six.
Baby's got a gun, with no place to hide, but we got a bigger one, so I'd like to see ya try.
But if I were you, I'd keep one eye on your six.
