

Never Satisfy Me – EMERALD

I think I burned up all my bridges and roads.

Don't really know where I'm going, and never let anyone close, any closer to me.

I walk through this desert alone, don't really care to go home.

Don't think there's one that I know, who's gonna satisfy me.

I think that I'm like some kind a ghost, and there's no one really out there that's close.

I can see a distant light out there glowing, will it satisfy me ?

I've travelled from the east to left coast, I feel like I'm just dead on the road.

I don't even freeze when it's cold, cause it's still warmer than me.

I've seen a million looks come and go, but it's not in the flesh where it grows.

It must be in the mind where you know, what really satisfied means.

I see the green grass as it grows, and every other day I feel old.

I don't really know where I'll go. Who's gonna satisfy me ?

You've got to satisfy me....

I don't wanna end up dead on the road. And you seem to be the one that might know.

Do ya wanna be the one that will know ? How to satisfy me.

I don't wanna end up dead on the road. And you seem to be the one that might know.

Do ya wanna be the one that will know ? How to satisfy me.

You've got to satisfy me....

You got to satisfy me, You've got to satisfy me.

You got to satisfy me, You've got to satisfy me.

You got to satisfy me, You've got to satisfy me.

You got to satisfy me, You've got to satisfy me.

You got to satisfy me, You've got to satisfy me.
