

Something For Nothing – EMERALD

The way he looked, ain't hard to get noticed, and the clothes he wore, was something to see.
He liked to stay inside, most of the time. With a broken down old colored tv.

He said, i'll never take nothing from no one. There's no rules that i follow or need.
And i ain't getting schooled, by no kind of fool. When all that's left over is me.

If you wanted all the answers, he got them. Ain't nothing in this world, he ain't seen.
He had some tough times, much like yours and mine. He got the one solution for me.

He said that, someone gave me something for nothing. And i always thought that nothing was free.
Some things that come around, are best left unfound. That nothing means something from me.
Then someone gives me something for nothing. I always thought that nothing was free.
I understand it now, from that day i found. It always meant something to me.

Then someone gives me something for nothing. I thought it was free.
Someone gives me something for nothing. I couldn't believe.
There's a little bit more to that something. Hidden between.
Someone gave me some kind of something. But it wasn't free.

Then someone gives me something for nothing. I thought it was free.
Someone gives me something for nothing. I couldn't believe.
There's a little bit more to that something. Hidden between.
Someone gave me some kind of something. But nothing is free.
