

You Know What I Mean – EMERALD

Got me a mood ring, you can't guess the color.
In this old mood swing, and I've turned in to another.
It comes up some times, real sneaky and steady.
And wrecks my whole life, cause it knows I'm not ready.

Yeah.....You know what I mean.

The weirdest things, make me sit down and wonder.
Makes no sense at all. With a spell that I'm under.
I don't handle it well, and I wake up with thunder.
I'm feeling real small, so I'll sit here and wander today.
You know what I mean.
You know what I mean.

Take me to hell, to see some friends I've been a miss'n.
All just as well, I'm never gonna give in.
Now is the time, to make a decision.
I'm already gone, cause I'm always wrong you see.
Hope you got something for me...Oh Yeah.

Give It.....

Get me the keys, to that horse with no carriage.
And a bottle a Jack, cause it makes a great marriage.
Give me a shot, of pure inhibition.
Now I'm ten feet tall, and I'm just not listening.
When it comes time, to make a decision.
Well it's just not right, and things ain't nice any more.
Help is something I need. Help is something I need.

Take me to hell, to see some friends I've been a miss'n.
All just as well, I'm never gonna give in.
Now is the time, to make a decision.
I'm already gone, cause I'm always wrong you see.
I hope you know, what I mean.
